

2026 AAR media overview

Company overview

AAR is the leading parts, repair, and software platform in the aviation aftermarket.

- $3.3B global aerospace and defense aftermarket solutions company
- Founded in 1955 by Ira A. Eichner
- 7,000+ team members
- Customers in 100+ countries
- 40+ AAR sites

FY2026 facts

17M+

airframe and engine
parts shipped / received

75+

OEMs supported with established contracts

1,160+

aircraft maintained,
repaired, and overhauled

15

FAA / EASA Part 145
certified repair stations

1/3

of global commercial aircraft fleet supported by combination of TraxSM, AerostratSM,
and AirvoyantSM

5

continents serving government programs

Recognition

- Earned repeat Military Friendly[®] Employer and Spouse Employer designation
- Named Top Shop for Best Total Solutions Provider by The145.com
- Certified as a Great Place To Work[®]

Business overview

Parts

- Distribution of new parts to commercial and government / defense operators
- Used Serviceable Material (USM)

Repair

- Airframe MRO
- Component MRO
- Engineering Services
- Development of proprietary Parts Manufacturer Approval (PMA) parts

Software

- TraxSM
- Airinmar[®]
- AerostratSM
- AirvoyantSM

Government Solutions

- Government Programs
- Mobility Systems

For all media-related inquiries for AAR and our subsidiaries (Trax, Aerostrat, Airvoyant, and Airinmar), contact: Editor@aarcorp.com

Please visit the AAR newsroom for images, logos, leader biographies, annual reports, financial statements and filings, and AAR news.

